You are automatically registered for this review course. You will receive specific details about the course through email.

You are responsible for any housing, meals and transportation costs incurred during this review course. Attendance is required.

This review course is presented by:
Jean Inman, MBA, RD, LD
The New England Center for Nutrition Education

This review course:

• Has been held nationwide for nineteen years

• Detailed, comprehensive Study Manual following CDR study guidelines, covering all Domains. We do all the research, so your time is spent studying, not searching for information!

• Most of what is discussed is printed for you in the Manual, thus note-taking will be minimized. Your time can be spent learning.

• Over 1000 sample test questions.

• Tips on how to study and how to take the computerized test.

• Individual support provided by fax, mail, phone or e-mail. If you have questions after you have studied a section, contact Jean Inman for help.